The war was a disaster for Australia, and more than 500 Australian soldiers were killed. The war also had a devastating impact on Vietnam, and more than 3 million Vietnamese people were killed.

Another example of Australia's tragic alliance with the United States is the Iraq War. Australia sent troops to Iraq in 2003 at the request of the United States. The war was a disaster for both Australia and Iraq. More than 100 Australian soldiers were killed, and the war also led to the deaths of hundreds of thousands of Iraqi civilians.
