

One Woman Play In Two Acts: The Hollywood Legends of '66

In 1966, Hollywood was at the height of its golden age. The studios were churning out classic films that would go on to become some of the most beloved and iconic movies of all time. And at the center of it all were a group of extraordinary actresses who brought these characters to life.

One Woman Play In Two Acts: The Hollywood Legends of '66 is a one-woman play that tells the stories of six of these legendary actresses: Elizabeth Taylor, Audrey Hepburn, Julie Andrews, Shirley MacLaine, Jane Fonda, and Natalie Wood.

ESTHER WILLIAMS: A One-Woman Play in Two Acts (The Hollywood Legends Book 66) by Michael B. Druzman

★★★★★ 5 out of 5

Language : English
File size : 743 KB
Text-to-Speech : Enabled
Enhanced typesetting : Enabled
Word Wise : Enabled
Lending : Enabled
Screen Reader : Supported
Print length : 43 pages

Act 1

Act 1 of the play focuses on the early careers of these actresses and their rise to stardom. We learn about their struggles, their triumphs, and their personal lives.

Elizabeth Taylor

Elizabeth Taylor was born in London in 1932. She began her acting career as a child, and by the age of 12, she had already starred in several films. In 1966, she won an Academy Award for Best Actress for her role in Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?.

Taylor was known for her beauty, her talent, and her tumultuous personal life. She was married eight times, and her marriages were often in the news.

Audrey Hepburn

Audrey Hepburn won an Academy Award for Best Actress for her role in 'My Fair Lady' in 1964.

Audrey Hepburn was born in Brussels, Belgium in 1929. She began her acting career as a ballet dancer, and she made her film debut in 1953. In 1966, she starred in My Fair Lady, for which she won an Academy Award for Best Actress.

Hepburn was known for her elegance, her sophistication, and her grace. She was also a dedicated humanitarian, and she worked tirelessly for UNICEF.

Julie Andrews

Julie Andrews was born in Walton-on-Thames, England in 1935. She began her acting career as a child, and she made her film debut in 1957. In 1966, she starred in The Sound of Music, for which she won an Academy Award for Best Actress.

Andrews was known for her beautiful singing voice, her charming personality, and her wholesome image. She was also a talented actress, and she starred in a number of other popular films, including Mary Poppins and The Princess Diaries.

Act 2

Act 2 of the play focuses on the later careers of these actresses and their impact on Hollywood. We see how they continued to break barriers and inspire generations of women.

Shirley MacLaine

Shirley MacLaine won an Academy Award for Best Actress for her role in 'Terms of Endearment' in 1983.

Shirley MacLaine was born in Richmond, Virginia in 1934. She began her acting career in the 1950s, and she quickly became one of Hollywood's most popular actresses. In 1966, she starred in The Apartment, for which she was nominated for an Academy Award for Best Actress.

MacLaine was known for her versatility, her intelligence, and her outspokenness. She was also a successful businesswoman, and she owned her own production company.

Jane Fonda

Jane Fonda was born in New York City in 1937. She began her acting career in the 1960s, and she quickly became one of Hollywood's most controversial actresses. In 1966, she starred in Cat Ballou, for which she was nominated for an Academy Award for Best Actress.

Fonda was known for her beauty, her intelligence, and her activism. She was a vocal opponent of the Vietnam War, and she was also a strong supporter of the women's movement.

Natalie Wood

Natalie Wood was nominated for an Academy Award for Best Actress for her role in 'West Side Story' in 1961.

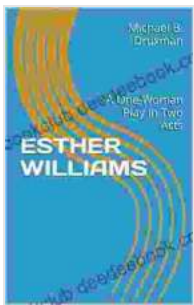

Natalie Wood was born in San Francisco, California in 1938. She began her acting career as a child, and she made her film debut in 1947. In 1966, she starred in This Property Is Condemned, for which she was nominated for an Academy Award for Best Actress.

Wood was known for her beauty, her talent, and her tragic death. She drowned in 1981, at the age of 43.

One Woman Play In Two Acts: The Hollywood Legends of '66 is a powerful and inspiring play that tells the stories of six of the most iconic actresses of all time. It is a moving tribute to their talent, their resilience, and their impact on Hollywood and the world.

The play is written by Kathleen Warnock and directed by Jessica Blank. It is currently playing at the Mark Taper Forum in Los Angeles.

ESTHER WILLIAMS: A One-Woman Play in Two Acts (The Hollywood Legends Book 66) by Michael B. Druxman

★★★★★ 5 out of 5

Language : English
File size : 743 KB
Text-to-Speech : Enabled
Enhanced typesetting : Enabled
Word Wise : Enabled
Lending : Enabled
Screen Reader : Supported
Print length : 43 pages

FREE

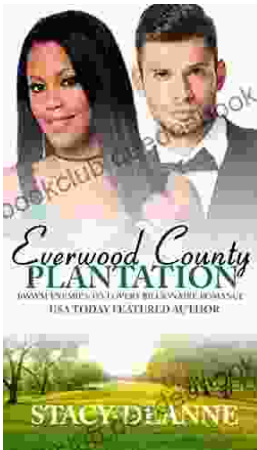

DOWNLOAD E-BOOK

Exploring the Complexities of Identity and Resilience in Chris Crutcher's "Losers Bracket"

Chris Crutcher's "Losers Bracket" is a powerful and poignant novel that explores the intricate web of identity, resilience, and the challenges...

BWWM Enemies to Lovers Billionaire Romance: A Captivating Journey of Passion and Prejudice

In the realm of romance novels, the enemies-to-lovers trope stands as a captivating pillar, captivating readers with its thrilling blend of conflict, chemistry, and the...